

Holyrood Faith Debates

The Holyrood Faith Debates series seeks to engage policy-makers, faith communities and academics in the area of religion, belief and education across Scotland. By building a network of informed and engaged stakeholders, we hope to stimulate a more informed and consensual policy discourse about the role of religion and belief in Scottish education and public life.

For information or to attend, please contact:

david.lundie@glasgow.ac.uk

Events in Summer 2021

❖ Tuesday 18th May, 7.00-8.00pm

Security, violent extremism and schooling - the Prevent duty in Scottish schools:

Speakers: Alex Elwick & Lee Jerome, UCL Institute of Education
Martin Sjoen, University of Western Norway
David Lundie, University of Aberdeen

❖ Tuesday 25th May, 12.30-1.30pm

Non-religious worldviews in Religious and Moral Education:

Speakers: Jonathan Lanman, Understanding Unbelief Project
Fraser Sutherland, Humanist Society Scotland
Rachael Shillitoe, University of Birmingham

❖ Tuesday 22nd June, 7.00-8.00pm

LGBT+ inclusive education and religious faith:

Speakers: To be confirmed